

The business of organizations and individuals is transformation--change is at the heart of everything and is necessary for survival. Change can be scary--not changing can be scarier.

Warrick Consulting, LLC helps individuals, teams, leaders and organizations manage and maximize change while realizing the potential that lies within them. We support and guide individuals and organizations as they face change, solve problems, plan for the future, move forward and produce results. Our variety of services, areas of expertise, and experience allows us to provide our clients with support, tools, perspective, and courage to be better.

our approach

- We approach individuals, teams, and organizations as unique.
- We approach each client as a partner; each party bringing different expertise and knowledge to the table.
- As the client, you set the agenda and determine the measures of success.
- We do not believe we have all the answers and in fact you'll find that we ask far more questions than we provide answers.
- We do this so that we can truly understand you, your organization, and the best course of action, so you can get on with achieving your goals.

we believe

- Most people want to create a positive future for themselves, their communities and their organizations.
- There is tremendous, unique potential for success in all individuals.
- Change can be scary to individuals.

about organizations:

- All organizations face change. "Smart" organizations use change to become better and achieve their goals.
- Leadership potential lies at all levels of an organization and plays a critical role in successful change efforts.
- Organizations are unique and complex systems within which one change can have unexpected results.
- Change can be scary within organizations.

about ourselves:

- We are not afraid of change.
- We are not scary.
